Loch Johnson, House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence staff, asked whether there are any CIA links to or connections with Brookings Institute or the American Enterprise Institute. Please let me know whether your organization is aware of any connections with these two institutes. This is in connection with the Committee's looking into broad range of CIA's relationship with academia.

Mr. Loch Johnson, House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence staff, has requested a listing of contractual and consultative arrangements which the Agency has with universities and colleges as well as with individual professors. The purpose in this listing is not to identify the professors and universities involved but rather the total amounts of money that are involved and how many universities, colleges and individual professors might be involved.

Loch Johnson, House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence staff, has requested a briefing from the Office of Security. What he is interested in determining is the role that the Office of Security plays in protecting Agency recruiters on university and college campuses. His specific concern goes to the issue of the degree to which the Office of Security coordinates with local police or local authorities with regard to likely activities or individuals who might be presumed to take violent action against Agency recruiters.

In the course of the briefings that Loch Johnson, House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence staff, received on CIA relationship with academia, he was told that each of the directorates do a certain amount of their own recruiting for staff personnel. This is apparently over and above that which is performed by the Office of Personnel. Loch has requested a briefing from DDO on DDO's on-campus recruiting. I told Loch that I was unaware of any DDO activities along this line but he insisted that Zeke Zellmer had said that all four directorates do their own recruiting.

You and your staff were kind enough to provide me with background on the Agency's association or lack of association with which was used for my 6 July letter (copy attached) to Loch Johnson, House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence staff. Loch has since come back to me and said that he has been informed that CIA uses or has used antennae [sic]. According to Loch there is a budget item listed on books where they indicate having received a year from the Agency for this purpose. I told Loch that this struck me as just short of absurd inasmuch as the Agency has its own antennae and equipment. Can you find out whether this is true for me. Thanks in advance.
